Jack Richards Passed Away Tuesday Morning

Came Here From Wales in 1910: Had Been a Fireboss at International for 25 Years.

The death occurred at a Calgary city hospital on Tuesday morning of a Coleman old-timer when Jack Charles Richards, 62, passed away after an illness of several months.

Born in Tontyresail, Wales, he grew into young manhood in that town and following his school days entered the mine. In 1907 he married Miss Elizabeth Butler.

In 1910 he came direct from Wales to Coleman, where he had resided till his death. His family of Mrs. Richards; Olive, now Mrs. Howard Davies, of Calgary, and L. S. "Sonny" Richards, joined him a few months after his arrival here.

He gained employment in the International as a miner and worked with the company till 1914, when he enlisted with a Canadian Cavalry company, later transferring to a tunnelling engineering company. He went overseas in 1915 and remained overseas till the end of hostilities.

He returned home in 1919, when he again entered the employ of International. After a year as a miner he secured his fireboss' papers and became a fireboss, a position he held with the company till his illness last July, when he was forced to cease work.

He entered a Calgary hospital last September and remained there till his death Tuesday morning.

Surviving are Mrs. Richards, Mrs. H. Davies, L. S. Richards and several grandchildren. A daughter, Dulcie, predeceased him on Nov. 15, 1930. His mother, 86, survives, as well as a brother and four sisters, in Wales. Mr. Lorenzo Richards, Second street, is also a brother.

Mrs. Richards was with her husband when he passed away, having gone to Calgary to spend Christmas with him. His son, "Sonny," left for Calgary immediately upon being informed of his father's passing.

Mrs. Richards sr., her daughter, Mrs. Davies, and Mrs. L. S. Richards were scheduled to leave Calgary this morning, while Sonny will return with his father's body on Friday morning's train.

Enquiry revealed that it is expected the funeral will take place on Sunday but plans are still indefinite.

Pythian Sisters Accompanied Grand Chief To Lethbridge

Mrs. Ernest Hill Paid Official Visit To Lethbridge Pythian Sisters' Temple.

Sixteen members of the Coleman Pythian Sisters' lodge accompanied Mrs. Ernest Hill, Grand Chief of Alberta, on her official visit to the Lethbridge lodge on Wednesday afternoon.

Those accompanying the Grand Chief were Mrs. S. Penney, Mrs. J. Glendenning, Mrs. J. Goulding, Mrs. J. Kostelnik, Mrs. R. Lloyd, Mrs. W. Martland, Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, Mrs. J. Houghton, Mrs. J. Clarke, Mrs. H. Turner, Mrs. A. Balloch, Mrs. T. DeCocco, Mrs. S. J. Ford, Mrs. O. Smith, Mrs. J. Hopkins and Mrs. W. Hopkins.

RONALD JONES RETURNED FROM OVERSEAS ON FRIDAY

RONALD JONES, RCAF, who returned home on Friday from overseas after more than two years service in Britain. He crossed the Atlantic on the Duchess of Bedford and experienced the heavy storms which prevail over the Atlantic at this time of the year. The liner was held up at St. Johns, Newfoundland, due to heavy storms. He walked in on his parents rather unexpectedly on Friday, as he came through to Lethbridge from Medicine Hat, picked up a ride from a young Vancouver couple, who were heading back to the coast, and who let him off literally at his own front door. Needless to say, Ronnie is very glad to be back home.

Wm. H. Haysom Here 40 Years Christmas Day

Came Here Following Two Years' Residence at Fernie; Intensely Interested in Music.

On Christmas Day, Dec. 25, 1945, William H. Haysom marked forty years' residence as a citizen of Coleman.

It was away back in 1905 that he decided to come to Coleman in search of employment after about two months' idleness at Fernie mine. His intense interest in music, especially vocal, was responsible for him coming to Coleman. While at Fernie he was told an old friend of his, formerly of Wales, wanted him to come to Coleman and take part in a musical program. He accepted the invitation and visited Coleman for a few days.

Being idle at Fernie he tried to get employment in Coleman, but was unsuccessful. Shortly after he was again asked to come to Coleman to take part in a concert. He consented and came Christmas Day, receiving his Christmas supper at Crows' Nest with old friends before completing the trip to Coleman. Still idle at Fernie, he again made a determined effort to secure work in Coleman and this time met success. Once employed he brought his wife and family from Fernie to Coleman.

Since residing here he has been quite active in community affairs. He still maintains his interest in music and for a great many years was a member of men's chors formed locally. He is interested in union matters and has been chairman of the hospital board for some considerable time. For years he has been the men's checkweighman at International. He has served terms on the school board and also on the town council.

At the present time he is convalescing from a sickness which caused him to undergo a serious operation at Edmonton. He has improved in health, however, to the point that he is again to be seen taking his daily walk down town.

To The Citizens Of Coleman

During last August, in response to a government appeal to all communities throughout the land, a meeting of citizens was called to form a Reception and Rehabilitation Committee. The Canadian Legion, being more interested in such affairs than any other organized body in town, quite rightly took the lead in organizing this meeting. Invitations were sent out to every known society, club, lodge, union, civic body, etc., which could be contacted, to attend this meeting, and a hearty response was made by the citizens generally representing a very thorough cross section of our community.

In the matter of selecting a committee, it was felt better to nominate a nominating committee in order that the best material for the various posts could be picked from those who had indicated their willingness to become active in such an organization. This nominating committee completed its job and brought down a slate of officers and various sub-committee members, which was regularly adopted at a meeting called for that purpose.

The Coleman Reception and Rehabilitation Committee is a committee of the citizens generally. It is your committee, regularly constituted as such; almost every organized body contributed to its creation, and it is not tied in with any other organization whatsoever. The members who have given of their time and effort to work on this committee were put there by the committee as a whole, and I wish to stress this point and that it should now be given your full support. They need it. As Chairman of this committee, I have thought it best to bring these facts before you.

There has been some criticism regarding the decision to give gifts to members of the armed forces who had seen active service. A letter was published in The Journal a few weeks ago relative to this matter, and although anonymous letters hardly merit a reply, I fully realize that some criticism is being levelled at the program of the committee as a result of this letter, and in order not to have that program sabotaged, a few words in reply to the letter mentioned might be in order. The decision to make a gift, and the decision of those who would qualify to receive such a gift was made at a very well attended meeting of the committee. The discussion was lengthy, enthusiasm was high, and the decisions made were unanimous. The committee fully realized that there would be some borderline cases where the feelings of a few citizens or returned personnel might be hurt, but the line had to be drawn somewhere, and it was felt that to follow the line made by the government with respect to the Maple Leaf Emblem would be the safest and fairest course to follow.

Personally, I do not think that there would be many of the boys who were in service in Canada, regardless of however hard they tried to get Overseas, who would begrudge some mark of distinction to those who, after all, had left our shores and had come to grips with the enemy.

There have been other ideas put forth regarding the matter of a memorial. The library idea is good, and so are many others, but they would take much more cash than we are now trying to raise. Let's have a library if Coleman really wants one, and can support it, but please keep in mind that the Reception and Rehabilitation Committee was not formed to erect a memorial. It was formed to receive our heroes from the wars, and to assist them wherever we could. Out of the organization so formed came a very strong wish to give some gift to the youth of Coleman who had left their all behind, and had reached the zones of battle, ready to give their blood that you and I may continue to lead the way of life we hold so dear, a gift that would be just something in the way of saying "Thanks, fellows," "Thanks, gals." We slept in nice soft beds all the time you were away, you have made a good job of it, and now we can continue to sleep in our nice soft beds.

And now, folks, the fund is not coming along quite as expected. As a starting point, it was planned on a basis of $1.00 per wage earner, to be augmented by donations from all organized institutions, firms, etc., but it was after this plan was set that the decision to raise $4,000 was made. It was fully discussed at the meeting and quite apparent to all that a further assessment might be necessary.

The committee now appeals to you to place your donation in the hands of the Secretary as soon as possible. Anyone wishing to make a further donation is urgently requested to do so. Credit will be given in The Coleman Journal. Don't wait for the other fellow, or the other merchant across the street to see what they are going to do. Clear your own conscience first. The objective can be easily reached if each and everyone does his share. Don't let us have to be the least bit ashamed of ourselves when we see a returned man walking down the street proudly showing his battle scars.

BURNS NIGHT TO BE CELEBRATED BY CONCERT

On Friday, Jan. 25, Scots of all nationalities will gather in the Coleman Community hall at 7.30 p.m. to pay tribute to the ploughman poet and national bard of Scotland, the immortal Robert Burns.

The first part of the entertainment is in the form of a concert, with J. J. McIntyre as program chairman. Following this, there will be a dance, consisting of old-time and modern favorites, with Mason's orchestra in attendance.

All proceeds are for the purpose of purchasing equipment for the pipe band. Tickets have been selling readily, as a good evening's entertainment is to be had for a mere 50 cents.

JOHN KROESING TO LEAVE COLEMAN TO RESIDE IN B.C.

The big logging areas of British Columbia west of Penticton have caught the fancy of John Kroesing and he is making preparations to leave Coleman at the end of the month for Enderby, B.C., approximately 100 miles west of Penticton, to reside.

Coming here from Pincher Creek in 1929, John worked for 3 years with Adam Hammer before purchasing a truck of his own and conducting a general draying business. He remained in this business until three weeks ago, when he sold the truck and business to Johnny Seaman.

Last summer he vacationed at the coast and gathered information on business prospects in the lumber areas. He secured sufficient information to lead him to believe that with a new truck and trailer he could secure a contract hauling giant timbers from the woods to the mills that would give him an increased revenue from that secured here.

A. M. A. Protest Gas Increase

Wartime Tax Should Be Dropped Effects Advised.

Disastrous effects on the farmers, truckers, motorists and inhabitants of Alberta were foreseen by James Cleave, provincial president of the Alberta Motor Association, if the proposed increase in the price of gasoline goes into effect in Alberta.

In a telegram to Prime Minister H. L. Mackenzie King, copies of which were also sent to J. L. Bisset and Donald Gordon, he declared the "proposed increases create an alarming prospect."

Writing in behalf of the Alberta Motor Association he told the Prime Minister that "reduced instead of increased prices are desirable."

"While the increased price of crude oil, recently approved, may justify increased charges on the part of the oil companies such increases should not, under present peace conditions, have to be borne by the consumers," the telegram stated.

"The should be offset by the immediate repeal of the present three cents per gallon Dominion war tax which was imposed solely as a war measure."

"Such appeal," the telegram continued, "would enable producers of gasoline to obtain their increased cost of two cents per gallon while at the same time giving a reduction of one cent per gallon to all consumers."

"Gasoline taxes which are in themselves discriminatory as applying only to motorists, can be justified only by corresponding highway expenditures for the benefit of road users and their continued imposition for wartime purposes is entirely unjustified now that the war has ended," the wire concluded.

ENGLISH BRIDE TO ARRIVE IN BELLEVUE

Pte. Tommy Price, of Bellevue, received the good news on Wednesday morning that his English bride had arrived in Montreal and was on her way west. Tommy, brother of Mrs. J. Kostelnik, expects his bride to arrive in the Pass at the week end.

"Grandma" White Celebrated 90th Birthday

Born Dec. 28, 1855; Received Letters, Flowers and Candy From Host of Friends; Still Maintains a Keen Interest in Life.

Dec. 28, 1945, marked the 90th milestone in the life of a dear old lady, known to a host of friends in the Pass, and Pincher Creek as "Grandma" White.

Born in Tipton, Staffordshire, England, in 1855, she grew up into an active young woman. After finishing school she took a course of nursing. Unlike today when a girl becomes a Registered Nurse following her graduation, "Grandma" was O.K. by the nurse in charge as a proficient nurse and one capable of holding down a nursing position in any town or hospital.

In 1876 she married Mr. Arthur White. In 1903, the year of the Frank Slide, Mr. and Mrs. White and their family came from England to Pincher Creek. Here they made their home, building a home at Pincher Creek station and purchasing land nearby the station. In 1916 Mr. White died.

Since that time "Grandma" has made a go of it alone. She brought her nursing experience into play and by this means earned for herself a living. Touching on her nursing experience she glibly remarked that while she did not enjoy the initials R.N. after her name she had nevertheless wore out nine Pincher Creek doctors. Her last assignment was offered her five years ago in Pincher, but she had to refuse it, being unable to carry out her duties satisfactorily due to old age and she again remarked "I did not want pay for work which I could not do in a satisfactory manner."

She came to Coleman a few months ago to reside with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Read, and for the past four months has been unable to rise out of bed due to a weakness in her legs. However, she maintains a fairly keen interest in life. Her hearing is good and she converses in a clear, distinct voice.

She was quite moved during her last birthday when no less than 55 letters of congratulation were received in addition to flowers and candies, as well as old friends visiting her to add their congratulations. When talking of the letters she waved her hand in a resigned manner and asked "How can I ever answer their letters and let them know how much I appreciate their good wishes?"

She fully believes that despite her long life and active associations with a great many people she does not have an enemy in the world. "If I have I don't know of it, but God bless them anyway."

The doctor has given her a pair of crutches to use in order to make her way alone through the house. She has tried them and found them satisfactory. Despite the fact that she has been unable to get on her feet during the past four months she is patiently waiting the arrival of spring and warm weather so that she can sit in the sun's rays outside the house.

Both "Grandma" and Mrs. Read express their thanks to that many friends who sent letters and gifts on the former's 90th birthday.

The Hollywood Veterans Service council announced that gratuities will be paid to 13,611 United States residents who served in the Canadian forces during the last war.

The Prices Board disclosed in Montreal that Canada shipped well over 100,000,000 pounds of fresh meat and 16,000,000 containers of canned meat to Europe during November.

Even the early morning sea will be warned to order at a luxury holiday camp in England planned by Margate Corporation at a cost of £100,000 ($450,000). There will be a large sea-water swimming pool.

Japanese Of Old

Christians Were Treated Cruelly By Emperors In Seventeenth Century

Compare this freedom of worship (granted by Gen. MacArthur to the Japanese) with the fiendish treatment meted out to Christians, native and foreign, by the emperors in the seventeenth century. Writing of these religious persecutions, Dr. J. Ingram Bryan, former professor in Japanese universities and later lecturer in Japanese history at Cambridge, says "the extermination of the Christian Church in Japan forms one of the most cruel and thrilling records in the annals of history." The work of the early Jesuit missionaries was especially fruitful. Not only were hundreds of thousands converted, but hospitals were established for the treatment of the afflicted, in the face of considerable opposition, because "the people thought it strange to keep alive those who were better dead." However, the work proceeded till Christianity was almost completely stamped out by means of torture "too horrible for description." It is estimated that between 1614 and 1638 about 200,000 persons suffered martyrdom, including many well-born ladies.

The Japanese are not now being encouraged to look back on the past, but forward to a more enlightened future; but when they do consult their national chronicles they will find plenty to justify the opinion of Allied headquarters that no violent "revelations" need be anticipated from the policies adopted, which are democracy itself compared with the merciless conduct of the shoguns.—Hamilton Spectator.

Many Dangers

Causes By Which Many Lives Are Needlessly Sacrificed

There are three things this newspaper has harped upon from time to time in the hope that our sermonizing will do some good. We make no apologies for restating them. One is to guard against bulls, which are untrustworthy creatures, another is to be on guard against letting a gun go off, whether at home or in the woods, and the other is to be cautious in the application of coal oil to kindle a fire. From each of these causes many lives have been needlessly sacrificed.

Remember them. — St. Thomas Times-Journal.

More Empire Talks

The Australian Government Thinks Frequent Discussions Would Be Advisable

Australia wants more regular and frequent discussions between Britain and the Dominions, it was learned at Sydney.

The Australian government is pressing for the establishment of machinery in London which would enable closer consultation and co-operation among members of the British commonwealth on matters affecting trade, finance and defence, usually reliable sources said.

Defence Minister Beasley, who has gone to London by ship to take over the post of Australian resident minister in London, will make strong representations to Whitehall that the Dominion governments be consulted on all important matters before final decisions are taken.

CHARIOTS SET GAUGE

The standard gauge used by American railroads—four feet, eight and one-half inches—comes from the fact that ancient Roman chariots used that gauge and subsequent vehicles of transportation followed suit.

THEME SONG MARKS BRAND NEW FAD—You take a metal ring and place it before your face—so. Then you pucker your lips and blow not too hard. It helps if you close your eyes, but then you can't see the result of your efforts: a brilliant stream of many colored bubbles that explode after travelling 10 feet. Where are hundreds doing it this year. Young and old, veterans and amateurs, are dipping the metal ring in a jar of suds (at no extra cost) then relaxing on the sofa to count their products. A good bubble-blower can waft a thousand bubbles ceiling-wards in less than four hours. If you get lazy, you can wave the ring with your hand. An electric fan can do wonders.

Stone Age House

Drifting Sand Made Owners Abandon It 3,000 Years Ago

Professor V. Gordon Childe in London Calling, says: Once I was really lucky. I got into a house of the Stone Age just as it had been left by its occupants over 3,000 years ago. That was in Orkney on the Atlantic Coast. The house had been unroofed in a frightful gale that set the sand dunes adrift. Having only bare hands and small bone shovels, the inhabitants could not clear out the fast driving sand and were forced to leave the place. The sand blew in and filled the dwelling. When we cleared it out, we found everything just as it had been left, so precipitate, and thus got a very realistic picture of life in Stone Age Scotland.

It was not idyllic. Scraps of food, broken snails, bones and bone shells were lying all over the place. We even found a calf's head in a bed. Yet the house was quite comfortably furnished. You must remember that there are not, and were not, any trees in Orkney. So in default of wood, that must have decayed long ago, all the furniture had to be made of stone, and that is durable. A peat fire had burned on a central hearth. Bedsteads of other side with stone tripods to support a canopy that had perished. There were cupboards in the walls for personal possessions, and against the back wall stood a very handsome-looking dresser with stone shelves and stone uprights. A drain ran under the floor and debouched into a central sewer.

Would Save Time

George Bernard Shaw Suggests Drafting Of New English Alphabet

George Bernard-Shaw appealed to the British government to appoint a committee to draft a new English alphabet "with which every sound in our speech can be written with one graphic and easily written symbol without even crosses or dots."

Mr. Shaw, who has campaigned before for simplification of the alphabet, said in a letter to The Times that adoption of his proposals would soon pay the cost of the war in time saved.

Using the word "bomb" as an example, Mr. Shaw said the final "b" was entirely senseless and represented "an absurd mispronunciation, as if the word 'gun' were to be spelt 'gung'."

"I can scribble the word 'bomb' legibly 18 times in one minute," Mr. Shaw said "and 'bom' 24 times, a saving of 25 per cent."

The result, he argued, is staggering enough to justify a priority for a new alphabet, "no matter what it costs."

Few People Understand

How Desperately Most Countries Of Europe Are Needing Food

W. L. Clark, in the Windsor Star, says: With around 1,400,000,000 pounds of meat, going to Europe from the United States, some relief should be given soon to the hungry people over there. They are in dire need, many of the children dying from lack of nourishment. Adults have low resistance and could not withstand any serious epidemic of sickness.

In Canadian it is hard to understand in what dire straits the people are over there. It is not lack of money that troubles them. Even those with funds cannot buy goods, because there is such a shortage all the way through. Some countries like Denmark have abundance, but far more than that, he needed to feed France, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Italy and the Balkans.

There is hunger over there and all the troubles that hunger brings in its wake.

Decree Effective

Government In Japan Will No Longer Dominate Religious Life

Emperor Hirohito has made effective Gen. MacArthur's decree divorcing religion and government in Japan. The Kyoto news agency said. The imperial household's religious service ordinance were drastically revised for the Dec. 25 anniversary of the death in 1926 of Emperor Yoshihito, father of the present emperor. Grand festivals, held by the emperor to report import state matters to the imperial sanctuary, imperial ancestors, shrine and imperial mausoleum, will be discontinued, as will the dispatch of imperial messengers to government and national shrines.

Japan has on the average about 1,500 earthquakes annually, or about four shocks a day.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

Must Verify Date

If United States Claims Honor For First Christmas Card

Ernest Dudley Chase of Boston, greeting card designer, publisher and collector for 40 years, has found the world's earliest Christmas card—maybe.

Published in Albany, N.Y., it will take the honor away from England, if he can verify the date, believed to be 1839.

"An 1842 design by W. M. Egley, Jr., of London, now holds the record," said the 67-year-old dean of American card designers. "It was discovered in the British museum just before the Second World War. Up to then J. C. Horsely's card, published in 1846, was supposed to be the first."

An executive of Rust Craft Publishers, where his office walls bulge with enlarged replicas of old Christmas cards, Chase displayed the treasure find for which he paid $150. Sketched by Forbes and lithographed by R. H. Pease, Albany, the little red-tinted card has five panels of festive scenes. Beneath Christmas and New Year's greetings are lines for the names of sender and recipient. Across the top is a head of Santa Claus and the words: "Peace's great variety store in the Temple of Fancy."

A good detective like all collectors, Chase tracked down Pease to 1839, at which time the Albany directory listed him as an engraver, but is still not sure when the "Temple of Fancy" was founded.

"If only he'd put the date on," the card connoisseur sighed, adding: "But I'm quite sure it's the earliest American Christmas card."

Chase considers the late Louis Prang, also a Bostonian, "the world's greatest greeting card publisher. Prang, in business in nearby Roxbury from 1874 until 1880, was," Chase said, "a genius in his own way. He printed Christmas cards in 24 colors. We do well nowadays to use five or six."

England, oddly enough, was Prang's first market and he was as successful there as in this country. His custom of offering annual prizes of $2,000 and $1,000 for designs attracted famous artists.

The Prang cards of 60 and 70 years ago were fringed and frosted and sometimes scented, so that lucky recipients could use them as sachets. Christmas cards suffered an artistic decline when he died, Chase recalled, and were brought back in the early 1900's by two other Bostonians, Alfred Parrott and A. M. Davis.

Less Time Now

Since War Ended People Are Not Reverent As March

F. C. Jennings, Ottawa's public librarian, believes that the pastime of curling up with a good book has "gone out of fashion"—at least in Ottawa.

Commenting on a decline in Ottawa's library circulation for home reading, as shown in his report for November, Mr. Jennings said that reading has apparently become a thing of the past since V-Day.

"With the end of the war and the return of the boys from overseas it seems that people just don't have time to sit in and read any more," he said.

Meat rationing need not deprive the beef lovers of an occasional juicy roast. The coupon budget of a family of four can allow a four-pound rolled rib roast, complemented with a good Yorkshire pudding and horseradish sauce, to be the highlight of Sunday dinner. And with no undue restraint it should provide Monday's meal as well as some luncheon fixings. A macaroni scallop-alternate layers of cooked macaroni, sliced hard cooked eggs, a colorful vegetable such as green beans, and a well-seasoned cream sauce—is an attractive and satisfying dish for meatless eating on Tuesday. Wednesday's lamb stew wearing a jaunty topping of biscuit rounds is a six-token bargain. Liver or kidney sauté for Thursday will give your family a nutritional boost at no ration expense. By Friday the eating cycle revolves to fish. Sausages which link well with sweet potatoes and beets, all of which can be oven-baked, make an easy meal for Saturday. Lightly fried Bologna slices are a tasty egg accompaniment now that the usual bacon and ham are doing a big job where most needed, and you may like to devote one or two of your remaining tokens today.

Isolation Periods

Have Been Cut For Scarlet Fever In Ontario

Reduction in isolation periods for scarlet fever and polymyositis (infantile paralysis) have been ordered by the Ontario Department of Health in regulations now going out to health officers throughout the province.

Scarlet fever isolation has been cut from 28 to 21 days and polo from 21 to 14. Principal reason given is that it has been established that neither disease is communicable after its first clinical appearance. The move follows the practice adopted in New York State, where polio now is treated in public hospitals without isolation.

Polio in Ontario, authorities said, has dropped this year to 170 cases as compared with 350 last year.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

O. Henry Ending

By ROSS BARGEY

Copyright
Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

If anybody'd told me, two years ago, that today I'd be living on an uncharted island somewhere in the Pacific, dressed in a sdrong, dodging King Tut . . .

Well, I suppose in a way it's my own fault. Henry was a good husband, according to his ideas. Kind, but prosaic—always talking about his golf score, telling the same old chestnuts. But the thing that got under my skin was that suffocating passiveness.

"Henry," I used to say, "matri-mony is a partnership, not a dictatorship. You knew when you married me that I'm not about flying!"

He would mutter something about a woman's place being in the home. Imagine! A bromide like that. He probably had had some wild action that a platinum circle, third finger left hand, would alter the whole pattern of my existence.

Oh, we both tried. But it infuriated Henry to have me thumb my nose at convention—and I never could abide a stuffed shirt!

It was when I took up solo flying that things really started in earnest. "Suppose," Henry would jitter, "that something went wrong. Airplane in-lards can't be fixed with a broom-stick—or a hairpin." That was the final insult. I set my jaw and determined then and there to fly the Pacific—alone.

I did make one compromise with Henry—that would be my last solo flight. I can still see his face—worried and waxy, as he dogged me along my plane that day I took off. Reminding me, by pantomime, to keep in touch with him by radio. Well, I did, until . . .

After the first grueling anxiety of the take-off it was glorious. I climbed rapidly upstairs, soaring high above the clouds for safety. How I revelled in that divine sense of freedom! I was a bird—a lone eagle . . .

no ties, no fetters . . . except for Henry's face, and that kept floating before me, anxious and pale.

I spoke to him occasionally through my little hand mike, and kept the radio tuned in to a powerful broadcasting station from which, by previous arrangement, Henry was allowed to interpolate a word to me between matinee dance numbers. In a way it was pleasant to think of him sitting there, waiting . . .

At first there were spaces of the ocean. Then the fog closed in and I was sailing alone between two white blankets. Hour after hour of that. And that eternal whiteness, monotonous and unrelieved, probably had a great deal to do with what happened.

I heard Henry's voice, with a note of panic: "Brenda, why don't you speak to me?" Then the radio went dead.

What a difference! Suddenly I wasn't an eagle any more. I was a speck, a dot, an atom—hurtling through space. No heaven, no earth . . . no Henry! Abruptly I felt I must make contact with the rest of the world.

A blue patch opened below me and down I swooped. I don't know what I expected to find . . . the long smoke-plume of a steamer, perhaps. Nothing but blue. I snatched my glasses and searched the horizon. Then I almost dropped them. No islands were charted for this part of the Pacific, but that distant blur could mean nothing else. I studied my compass. I glanced wildly at the sun. One thing, it must be the compass. I found myself mentally shrieking that this couldn't be happening to me! But it was. There was no doubt about it—I was lost.

That was when I cracked. Without stopping to weigh the consequences I made for that distant blur. The shock of the impact must have thrown me clear of the wreck, for when my eyes focused much later the plane was a charred mass, and all around me were grinning brown faces.

Seven hundred days ago—or is it years? Unless, of course, some of these grinning aborigines have been monkeying with the jar of pebbles I call my calendar.

I wonder—dully, of late—if I shall ever be rescued. Probably not. Until yesterday no steamer has ever made this stop—and I wasn't here for the party. The natives must have slipped something in my coffee, so to speak. When I woke the boat was gone. Business as usual, except some of the women strutting around in new beads, or scrapping over a few yards of gaudy calico. I took a hand in that—I can use a new sarong.

Hello, what's this? An old newspaper, by all that's holy! Left behind, probably by one of the sailors.

It has my name in it! So . . . Given up for lost . . . Declared legally dead. And Henry's name, too—coupled with that of . . . Valeria Blaine.

So soon. Well, I suppose a man gets lonely.

She always did go for Henry—that Blaine person! Oh, I reckon she'll make him a good enough wife. The sort that Henry wanted me to be.

Sometimes I go almost insane—forever looking at these grinning brown faces—all so alike. Except King Tut, as I call him. And he's the most alike of any of them. Teeth. And he has the middle age spread. I don't like the way that bird eyes me!

Here he comes now, jabbering and gesticulating. I wonder what he wants . . . Ah, I am flattered—he is asking my hand in marriage. Why, you big baboon, I HAVE a husband! What's that? He says I am to think nothing of it—he himself has four wives and thirteen children! Good heavens—the creature actually means it! Look here, you brown ape—don't be that way that bird eyes me!

MAY FOLLOW IN DAD'S STEPS

"Maybe" he will follow in his famous father's footsteps, says Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., 31, son of the late president. He will duplicate his dad in following a political career, from all present indications. Recently discharged from the navy as a lieutenant-commander, he is learning the law just as his father did 35 years ago. He looks and talks like his father, and judging from his remarks, even thinks like him.

SMILE AWHILE

He: When anything goes wrong around this house I always fix it.

Wife: Yes, I know. Since you fixed the clock, the cuckoo backs out and asks, "What time is it?"

Violet: "My dear, I never imagined you would marry the man you did."

Gladys: "Neither did I. I disliked his ways, but I adored his means."

"What did your father say about you snatching up his ear?"

"I shall I leave out the swear words."

"Then he didn't say anything."

Former: "Say, old man, can you let me have five . . ."

Latter: "No . . ."

Former: ". . . minutes of your time?"

Latter: "No trouble at all, old scout."

"I saw the doctor today about my loss of memory."

"What did he advise?"

"That I pay him in advance."

Mrs. Crabb: "And you have the nerve to ask $5 a bottle for this never tonic?"

Druggist: "Yes, madam, it shows what it will do. I take it regularly!"

Guide (conducting students through an art gallery): "By a single stroke of the brush Joshua Reynolds could change a smiling face into a growling one."

Young Student: "So can my mother."

"I see women are wearing their dresses longer," remarked a husband from behind his paper.

"Yes?" queried the wife with a withering look. "Well, if they have to wear them as long as I do they have my pity."

"Dad, do you remember the story you told me about the time you were expelled from school?"

"Yes."

"Well, isn't it funny how history repeats itself?"

Royal Bank Assets

Top $2,000,000,000 In New High Records Revealed In Annual Statement

New records in the field of Canadian banking are revealed in the Annual Statement of The Royal Bank of Canada, for the year ended November 30, 1945. Total assets, which increased during the year by over $217,000,000 have reached a total of $2,007,546,978 which is not only a new record for the bank, but is the first time the assets of any Canadian bank have reached the two billion dollar figure. Total Deposits, which a year ago stood at the record total of $1,676,884,696, are again up, having increased by more than $211,000,000 to $1,887,757,074. Deposits by the public are also at the new high level of $1,595,389,291, an increase of over $195,000,000. That the scale of private savings, steadily on the increase through the war years, has been well maintained is reflected by public deposits bearing interest totaling $711,591,119. This figure compares with $592,851,469 in 1944.

Current loans both in Canada and abroad are higher than a year ago, and have reached a total of $383,624,056 as compared with $351,602,376. The downward trend of current loans in Canada noted in last year's report has been reversed, the figures under this head showing an encouraging increase in the present balance sheet. At the close of the bank's fiscal year on November 30th such loans totalled $283,726,567, an increase of more than $22,000,000 over the figure for the previous year. Current loans outside Canada, which now total $88,441,196, are higher by $9,323,726. An increase of some $3,000,000 is also shown for Call Loans in Canada, probably due in large measure to the temporary accommodation extended to investment dealers in the financing of purchases of the 9th Victory Loan.

The liquid position of the bank is, as usual, very strong. Liquid assets are substantially higher than a year ago and now total $1,558,477,086 which is equal to 82.14% of the bank's liabilities to the public. Included in these liquid assets are Dominion and Provincial securities valued at $882,039,866, an increase of more than $72,000,000 over the previous year. The balance sheet also reveals an increase of some $20,000,000 in the bank's holdings of public securities other than Canadian. These consist primarily of United States and United Kingdom Government Securities.

The bank's profit and loss account is this year presented in a somewhat different form to that used previously. Profits, after the usual contribution to the Pension Fund Society and appropriation for Contingency Reserves, amounted to $6,003,142. From this amount $2,175,000 has been set aside for Dominion Government taxes, leaving a net profit for the year of $3,828,142. The comparative figure for the previous year was $2,832,154. From the net profit $729,295 has been set aside for Bank Premises and the usual dividends amounting to $2,100,000 paid, leaving $998,847 to be carried forward to surplus which now stands at $3,246,518.

ADVERTISING PAYS

In New York, a quality leather-goods shop advertised a $2,000 traveling case for the luckiest man in the world. It had made only one, it said. But orders for five others were quickly taken when the demand appeared. The case was handmade of domestic alligator lined with Scotch pigskin and set off with gold-plated hardware, containing plastic-backed brushes, gold-plated manicure set, leather-covered eight-day clock and lotion bottles with gold-plated screw tops in gold cages.

CWAC HEAR PADRE DESCRIBE ENGLISH HOMES—

Many of England's beauty spots were viewed in natural color by the members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps, Regina, when Major J. Wilkes Duncan, army padre, who spent five years overseas, gave an illustrated talk on gardens and homes of England. The pictures also included many of England's most famous old churches of various architectural styles, and many views of English garden beauty. Spots of historical significance were included in the views, such as Florence Nightingale's birthplace, and Jane Austen's and Paul Bunyan's homes. Some of the estates occupied by the Canadian army during wartime, were illustrated, and there were views of Scotland and of graveyards where Canadian war dead lay buried. Major Duncan travelled extensively in England, going 10,000 miles by motorcycle.

WOMAN BARBER FORMER MEMBER OF C.W.A.C.—

Miss Finch has been barbering since 1937. When she joined the C.W.A.C., she was the only barber in the organization. When Miss Finch started her career as a hairdresser, back when times were not so prosperous as they are now, she found that she could make a better go of things barbering. So she entered a barber's school, and on completing her course, set up a shop of her own. She closed her business to join the C.W.A.C. It was here that she established the first beauty parlor at Dundurn camp, and operated others wherever she happened to be stationed.

LT.-COL. JOAN B. KENNEDY RETIRES—

National Defence Headquarters announced recently the retirement from the Canadian Women's Corps, of Lt.-Col. Joan B. Kennedy, of Victoria, B.C., after more than four years service. Lt.-Col. Kennedy, officer administering the C.W.A.C. from its organization until October, 1942, and recently General Staff Officer, Grade One, in the branch of the Master-General of the Ordnance, N.D.H.Q., was the first commissioned officer of the Corps. Previously she had been instrumental in helping organize the British Columbia's Women's Service Corps, at the start of the war in 1939, and this idea of a special disciplined unit for the women of Canada in wartime spread throughout the country. The C.W.A.C. was formally instituted in July, 1941, and in March, 1942, became part of the Canadian Active Army. It finally reached a parade total of more than 18,000 all ranks. Lt.-Col. Kennedy in the course of organizing and administering the C.W.A.C. travelled extensively throughout Canada and in the United States as well. Born in England and there throughout the first Great War, Lt.-Col. Kennedy returned to her native land on duty for part of 1942 and 1943, when C.W.A.C. personnel overseas were first stationed there.

Rhodes Scholarship For Manitoba Is Won By A Winnipeg Man

Robert J. Moyse, of Winnipeg, has been awarded the Rhodes scholarship for Manitoba. He was chosen for his economic standing, leadership initiative, more qualities, courage and physical fitness and the fact that he served in the Royal Navy also was in his favor.

Moyse was born in 1920 and was educated at United college and the University of Manitoba. He enlisted in the navy as an ordinary seaman in 1940 but was commissioned several months later.

This year he is attending the University of Toronto for a master's degree in political science.

MISS VELISE MATOVCIK TO LEAVE FOR CALGARY

Coleman will lose a charming young business woman this coming week when Miss Velise Matovcik closes her beauty parlor, next to Modern Electric store, and leaves for Calgary, where she will seek employment and take up future residence in the city.

It is thirteen months since Miss Matovcik opened up her beauty parlor, known as Artistic Beauty Shop, on main street. During that time she has conducted a good business. However, her parents plan on leaving to reside in Calgary in the near future, so she has decided to get employment in Calgary prior to her parents' arrival and be ready to receive them.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Motorists Should Protest Price Increase

Alberta motorists view with uneasiness the proposed boost of two cents per gallon on gas caused by increased prices on crude oil. Protests have been sent Ottawa by the United Farmers of Alberta, the Alberta Transport Association and by the Alberta Motor Association.

The federal government placed a wartime tax of three cents a gallon on gas. Now that the war is over and war expenditures drastically curtailed Ottawa should give the motorist and farmer some relief by eliminating the 3-cent tax altogether, which would thus absorb the two cents a gallon boost given the producer and cut the price of gasoline by one cent to the motorist and farmer.

Ottawa has relinquished very little of its wartime taxes. The elimination of this three cents tax on a gallon of gasoline would be only fair to the overly taxed Alberta motorist.

The small motorist can make his voice heard by urging his Town Council to speak in his behalf by protesting as a council to Ottawa against the proposed increase.

Anticipate Heavy Road Program

While Alberta motorists, through their several agencies, might protest to Ottawa against boosting the price of gasoline, they are not blind to the fact that the Alberta government has a 7-cent rakeoff on every gallon of gasoline sold. Nor are they blind to the fact that they are heavily licensed to run their cars, and taxed on oil. The fact that their car licenses and taxes are placed in the general fund to be used for various government departments and that only a fraction is retained for highway maintenance is an unfair practice which rangles. The only bright spot in the whole picture was the announcement from the Department of Public Works that it was proposed to spend 120 million dollars within the next ten years to increase and improve main highways as well as improve second grade roads. The Alberta motorists fully expect this program to be launched within the next four months when warmer weather will be with us.

Need Support Of All

A more aggressive attitude is being taken by the Finance Committee of the Rehabilitation Committee starting this week. A canvass is being made of all business and professional men in order to more quickly boost the "Gift Fund" up to its quota of $4,000. It is fully expected that once the plan has been explained fully to them that handsome donations will be forthcoming.

It is to be hoped that some who gave their donation before the $4,000 objective was announced will reconsider their original donation and boost it up with a second donation. If the Gift Fund is to reach its $4,000 objective the active support of all wage earners in Coleman must be secured.

Radio Interference

We are unaware how radio reception is in other parts of town, but around Fourth street these past few weeks it has been atrocious. Especially on Saturday and Sunday nights does that rasping buzzing sound almost drive one berserk.

Experience has taught us that it is no use asking the CBC trouble shooting department to send men here to try and find the source of interference, they have manpower shortage in that department and only the tax collecting department is up to strength, but one thing would be appreciated and that is if some organization in town could track down the interference and eliminate it.

Prosperity Sure If . . .

Special New Year statements of leading Canadian business executives, published in the latest issue of The Financial Post, agree that Canada is on the threshold of a long period of prosperity provided that:

1. That industry is not bogged down by a series of strikes;
2. The present tax burden is revised to encourage the expansion of current industry and development of new industries, new processes and new business;
3. A formula is found for restoring and expanding world trade.

Commenting editorially on these opinions The Post remarks: "Assolution of the first two, strikes and taxation, lies within our own powers. The sincere co-operation of labor, management and capital can solve the first and a complete and scientific overhaul of our tax structure, plus co-operation of municipal, provincial and federal governments, can solve the second.

"Only in regard to a solution of world trade are we dependent on others, and here we can help materially by offering the fullest Canadian co-operation.

"Whether Canada will be prosperous and happy in the year just commencing, depends almost entirely on Canadians themselves."

Letter to The Editor

Ottawa, 4 Jan. 1946.

The Editor.

Dear Sir:

While Christmas is always the busiest time of year for the Post Office, December, 1945, brought all-time high in Christmas mailings.

With Postal employees assured of spending Christmas Day at home, "Early Mailing" of gifts and greetings was most important to ensure delivery by the holiday. That this need was widely recognized is evident from the reports received from Postmasters throughout the country that, despite the increased volume, Christmas mails were cleared by December 24th. Transporting, separating, sorting and delivering millions of gifts and greetings during the brief pre-Christmas season is no mean task, and it was only due to the favorable response of the public and the tireless efforts of thousands of Postal employees that Christmas mails were delivered on time this year.

I am writing to express personally, and on behalf of Postal employees generally, sincere thanks to the newspapers, to business men, radio stations and the general public for their thoughtful co-operation.

Yours truly,

W. J. Turnbull,

Deputy Postmaster General.

...V...
N. E. S. CHANGE OF REGULATIONS

1. On December 31, 1945, a reporting system replacing the present permit system went into effect. On this date new and substituting sections 204 and 205 became operative. Section 204 provides that where an employer takes an employee into employment he shall:

- (a) Record the prescribed particulars of the employment on a notification of hiring in prescribed form;
- (b) Within 72 hours of taking the employee into employment mail or deliver a copy of the notification of hiring to the local office;
- (c) Retain a copy of the notification of hiring on file.

Section 205 provides that no employer shall retain in his employment an employee during any day after the expiration of the 72-hour period referred to in paragraph (b) of Section 204, unless he has reported the hiring to the nearest National Employment Service office.

2. Commencing with December 31, 1945, four employment controls will be in force. They are:

- (1) Employers must report the hiring of all employees within 72 hours.
- (2) The seven-day notice terminating employment. (The present Section 202 remains unaffected.)
- (3) Unemployed workers must register with the nearest national employment office.
- (4) The obligation of the employer to list all his employment vacancies with the nearest national employment office.

Commencing Jan. 2, all employers are advised to use NSS form 312 for all male and female employees whom they hire on and after Dec. 31, 1945. Supplies are available on request from all UIC local offices or from post offices if there is no local office in their locality.

All forms 102A on hand are to be returned to the local office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

It will be appreciated that the importance of prompt reporting by employers of employees whom they hire, cannot be overemphasized, since the information so obtained will be of vast assistance in interpreting the employment situation as it exists at any given time.

Ukrainians Open National Fitness Campaign

First provincial classes in a nation-wide Canadian-Ukrainian physical fitness program opened this week in Edmonton in the Ukrainian-Canadian hall, 10628 96 street, with nearly forty students from all over Alberta attending instructional sessions.

Tony Kay, Toronto, national director of physical education for Canadian-Ukrainians, is supervising the gymnastic section of the school, which also includes folk dancing and music. Mr. Kay is touring Canada for the association and the program taught by him is in co-operation with Canada's physical fitness campaign under the auspices of the department of national health.

Fruits of the instruction will be demonstrated at a western Canada folk dancing and physical fitness display planned by the Ukrainian-Canadian association for July when more than 1,000 performers from the four western provinces will stage a festival in the Edmonton arena.

The group of students now taking instruction in Edmonton will return to their various districts and act as instructors for all young people wishing to take physical fitness and dancing lessons.

Mr. Kay is receiving assistance in the musical and folk dancing sections of the school from Miss Gene Derry and Peter Meroniuk, Coleman, president of the Alberta students' council of the Ukrainian-Canadian association.

Mr. Meroniuk was appointed president of the Alberta students' council of the Ukrainian-Canadian association while attending the instructional sessions from Dec. 20 to Jan. 4.

Accompanying him to Edmonton were four local youngsters, Laura Kobewka, 11 years; Elaine Gurny, 13; Bill Petruniak, 14, and Stanley Haluk, 11. These youngsters are now assistant instructors in the physical fitness, music and dancing campaign being conducted in Coleman by Mr. Meroniuk.

Practices are now in progress and approximately 60 persons will take part in choir, physical fitness groups, orchestra and dancing. Prior to the monster festival at Edmonton, Mr. Meroniuk plans on sponsoring concerts in all Pass towns in order to give his pupils experience in front of the public and to raise a fund through which to finance the trip to Edmonton, where these 60 Colemanites will join with other Canadian-Ukrainians in demonstrating folk dancing and physical fitness displays.

Mr. Meroniuk estimates that it will require a $1,000 fund to transport his group to Edmonton and keep them during the Western Canada demonstration. In addition to concerts he plans on sponsoring a number of picnics.

Hospital facilities for treatment of tuberculosis represent an investment of over $35,000,000, and their annual maintenance costs over eight million.

Jim Wilkie Given Studebaker Car And Truck Agency

Plans to Bring in Demonstrator as Soon as Possible.

R. JONES.

The rector wishes to thank all responsible for making our first peaceful Christmas a magnificent act of thanksgiving to God for the victory vouchsafed to the Empire. Moreover, I should like to include my warmest thanks and gratitude for the generous gift of the congregation and personal gifts as well. There never was such a Christmas.

"Save The Children Fund"

The lodges of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of Canada and Newfoundland have passed the $100,000 mark in their fundraising for the relief of war-orphaned children in Great Britain and on the continent. Mr. Justice J. C. McRuer, chairman of the Canadian committee of the Save the Children Fund, announced this week from Toronto. Total contributions now stand at $101,187.

Contributions from the Elks helped make possible the fund's shipment to France this month of five thousand gallons of cod liver oil, Mr. McRuer said. As well, they have accepted full responsibility for the support, this year and probably next, of 100 refugee children now being sheltered in Sweden. This project alone costs them $9,600 annually.

In Great Britain the Elks aid in maintaining residential and day nurseries, Mr. McRuer stated. One nursery for 50 bombed out children has been entirely supported by the 156 Elk lodges for the past three years and will continue to be for an indefinite period.

Consistent support of the Elks to the Canadian committee of the Save the Children Fund has also made possible the sending of a regular remittance to the fund's French committee in Paris to assist in the gigantic task of caring for homeless children there, said the committee chairman. It has also aided in the support of a complete team of relief workers assisting UNRRA in Cairo.

Every Elk lodge in Canada and Newfoundland has become the headquarters for receiving donations to help needy children through the Save the Children Fund, Mr. McRuer added. Every lodge has played an important part in making our work possible. Some lodges support European children on their own, as well as contributing to the upkeep of the 100 adopted by the Elks as a whole.

Using Pass Arenas To Hasten Draw; 44 Rinks Entered.

Coleman, Blairmore and Bellevue curling arenas were hives of activity from early Sunday morning until late evening as 44 rinks from the three Pass towns matched skill against each other in an effort to advance in the draw and reach the jewelry stage.

Ten sheets of ice were in play throughout the day and 49 games were decided. The draw will continue next Sunday at which time it is very probable that the consolation event will be started.

Coleman has fourteen rinks entered.

Billion Dollars In Insurance Paid Canadians

Toronto, Jan. 1.—More than a billion dollars were paid out to Canadians by the life insurance companies during the war years, it was made known today by John D. Buchanan, of London, Ontario, president of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association.

Mr. Buchanan made the announcement in a New Year review addressed to policyholders in the Dominion and to Canadian life insurance men throughout the world.

During 1945 alone, he said, the payments made by the companies to Canadian policyholders or their beneficiaries amounted to over $160,000,000.

The association president commented that, in Canada, life insurance companies generally did not apply any war service clause, restricting the benefits or charging an extra premium, to any policy sold before the actual beginning of hostilities, and therefore a large proportion of the men who entered the armed forces had unrestricted life insurance coverage. As a result, Mr. Buchanan announced, from the beginning of 1940 to the end of the war, the companies paid out about $30,000,000 to the beneficiaries of Canadians who lost their lives while serving overseas.

However, that extra burden on life insurance funds was balanced in part, Mr. Buchanan indicated, by a civilian death rate in Canada that was lower than in pre-war years. He described it as a "surprise, inasmuch as the vast movement of both troops and civilians has a tendency to spread disease, and a large proportion of the population suffered from overwork and increased worry."

He ascribed the relatively low death rate to the development of sulfa drugs and penicillin, the work done by public health authorities and the increased mass consciousness of health measures, in addition to steady individual incomes. The life insurance business contributed to the public health campaign in several ways, Mr. Buchanan commented, including the publication of nearly five million booklets on nutrition.

The association president revealed that, investing funds on behalf of policyholders, the life insurance companies in Canada bought more than one billion dollars worth of Victory bonds during the war. "The companies," he said, "wanted to give all possible support to the war effort; the effect of this co-operation can be seen from the fact that the end of 1939, government bonds constituted only 11 per cent of the total assets, and this figure has risen until it is now over 40 per cent."

The result, said Mr. Buchanan, was that the interest yield on new investments from year to year was much lower than in pre-war years. But, he added, some favorable developments served to balance the companies' financial position; they included, in addition to the lower civilian death rate, an improvement in some older investments due to business activity and a reduced ratio of operating costs through increased business.

Canadians' life insurance protection, he said, actually increased about 50 per cent during the war, and the total in force in the Dominion is now about 10 billion dollars, including more than $950,000,000 taken out during 1945.

"There never was a time," he said, "when people were more concerned about security for their families and themselves."

"While war represents a time of strain and loss of earnings to the life insurance business," said the association president in his review, "yet, on account of the excellent status of the companies when the maintain a strong financial position,

"It will be realized that the effect on the national economy of payments to policyholders and beneficiaries is considerable. It is impossible to measure the importance war broke out and those favorable factors, they have been able to

of these payments in keeping homes intact, in providing the means for the care of children, in supplying funds for education, in relieving government and charitable institutions of many problems which they would otherwise face, and in preserving the dignity of the individual citizen."

Tests PROVE this WATER SYSTEM IS Built to Last!

When you buy a water system, you want it to give dependable, trouble-free service for many years. Tests made by an independent, unbiased laboratory prove that this Fairbanks-Morse piston-type, automatic Water System is built to last. Operated continuously under conditions which speeded normal wear, it ran twice as long as the combined break-down runs of four others.

This shallow well system comes to you complete, ready to connect to your supply and distribution pipe lines. You can service it easily yourself. Has a heavy-duty motor rather than one designed for intermittent use. Built in two sizes—400 and 500 gallons per hour actual delivery capacity (not a mere displacement rating).

Exclusive Crankshaft Prolongs Pump Life

Fairbanks-Morse is the only water system manufacturer using hardened and ground crankshafts—one reason why this piston-type pump is so long-lived.

Because of precision machining Fairbanks-Morse replacement parts bought thirty years from now will fit perfectly.

A Deep Well System, Too

For water lifts of 22 to 70 feet, this combination piston-ejector system retains high pumping efficiency even at the higher pressures, with minimum power consumption. Its pump is the long-lived one described above. The ejector assembly adapts that pump to deep well service, has no moving parts below ground.

A World Assembly

THE RIGHT HONORABLE ERNEST BEVIN, Foreign Secretary for the United Kingdom, has advocated the setting up of a world parliament as a means of ensuring the observance of international law and maintaining permanent peace. Leaders of other Allied nations have likewise recognized the need for some world organization on a scale larger than any which has yet been considered. It is clear that the practice of what has been called "power politics", and the attitude held in the past by some nations towards treaties and international agreements, must be destroyed, if future wars are to be avoided. The prevention of these offences on the part of such nations could only be effectively accomplished by a world organization possessed of the determination and the power to enforce the law.

A Basis For Future Cases

Some observers have seen in the trials of German and Japanese war criminals, the beginning of an international code of morals which may form a basis for dealing with any similar cases which might arise. These trials have been the first in which violation of the laws of humanity have been tried by an international tribunal, and they mark a definite step forward in the way of preventing such crimes in the future. In the whole course of history it would be difficult to find examples of such flagrant disregard for treaties and agreements with foreign nations as was practiced by the Germans during the Nazi regime. Neither are there records of more brutal and inhumanitarian treatment than that meted out by the Nazis to the people they sought to conquer.

A Warning To Other Nations

The manner in which the war trials have been carried out, and the sentences imposed on those who have been found guilty, will remain as a warning to others who have the power to commit similar acts. In the future, statesmen and nations who enter into international agreements will do so with the knowledge that they are not to be held lightly, and that there may be a stern accounting for violation of such agreements. The present war trials were organized by the Allies to try offenders from the conquered nations. To be effective in the future, such a court would have to be representative of all nations, and empowered to deal with all who attempt aggression or other acts which lead to war. A world assembly could create such a court, and it is to be hoped that this plan, proposed by leaders of the peace loving nations, may some day result in a "parliament of man" which will be equipped to do away with many of the difficulties created by the present world order.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—I wish to set up a new business and would like to know if it now is necessary to first obtain a permit from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

A.—New entrants into business are no longer required to obtain a permit prior to getting a license. Licenses may be obtained by applying to the Board office in your locality. All those commencing new business are reminded, however, that the Board's regulations respecting prices require that all prices must be approved before goods are offered for sale.

Q.—Is there any way in which our club may obtain extra rations of sugar and butter for a reception we are having for returning ex-servicemen?

A.—Because of the larger number of such receptions being held and the possible heavy demands on already short supplies of both these commodities no extra allowance is made for such a purpose. If club members wish to contribute part of their own rations they may do so.

Q.—What rationed commodities may a Canada take into the United States when going there on a visit?

A.—You will require an export permit for meat of all kinds and for dressed poultry. Butter and preserves may be taken out to the value of $5, over which an export permit is required. Sugar up to five pounds may be taken without a permit. Applications for permits are made to Export Permit Branch, Department of Trade and Commerce, 220 Queen Street, Ottawa.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" to Blue Book in which you keep track of your ceiling prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Work Is Changed

Bomber Factories In Britain Are Now Turning Out Houses

Five great United Kingdom bomber factories are now turning out the world's finest prefabricated houses. This was revealed by Mr. Arthur Woodburn, parliamentary secretary of the Ministry of Aircraft Production. Mr. Woodburn who was operating the first aluminum home erected in Blackpool, England, said: "Blasting bombers into bungalows is the modern version of turning swords into plowshares." Fifty thousand bungalows will be produced in the United Kingdom in the next year or two from a thousand tons of aluminum scrap recovered from obsolete aircraft—United Kingdom Information Service.

Former merchant seamen and their families are to be accommodated in a new type of village in Surrey, England. There is to be living space provided for 250 families at first. The National Union of Seamen is responsible for the idea, but South Africa is so impressed with it that $200,000 has already been contributed from that source. Materials may be short in Britain, but somehow they seem determined to get things done for those who served the country. That is something to be admired, and possibly copied later.—Halifax Chronicle.

Acquired For Transporting Mental Patients In Saskatchewan

The Saskatchewan Department of Public Health has acquired two former R.C.A.F. ambulances for the transportation of mental patients, and a third is being purchased. Dr. R. O. Davison, commissioner of mental services, reported. One of the cars will be operated from the commissioner's office at the School for Mental Defectives at Weyburn and the other from North Battleford mental hospital. The third machine will also be operated from Weyburn. "Acquisition of the ambulances will facilitate movement of patients with much more privacy than has hitherto been possible," Doctor Davison said. He added that the cars would, as much as possible, replace transportation by train or bus.

For Civilian Use

Surplus Blood Plasma Made Available By Canadian Red Cross

Dr. F. W. Routley, national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross society, said the federal health department is making available through the provincial health departments an estimated 30,000 bottles of surplus blood plasma for civilian use. Dr. Routley said the bottles comprised 100,000 blood donations and emphasized that the surplus was declared only after it was seen that supplies were available for veterans for some time.

MAPLE SYRUP

In 1945 the output of maple products was one of the poorest on record. In terms of gallons it was only 1,350,000 compared with the five-year average 1940-44 of 2,802,692 gallons. Adverse weather conditions were the principal cause of the poor output. Given reasonable weather at the time for tapping the maple trees in 1946, the production should be in the neighbourhood of 2,750,000 gallons.

Good Meat Alternate

Nutrition Division Says Peanuts Stand High As Vitamin Providers

When you are shopping around keep your eye out for peanuts, says the nutrition division. The nuts take high marks as providers of vitamins needed. A round tablespoon of peanut butter, contains a third of the protein contained in an average serving of meat and a small package of roasted peanuts contains one-half. Peanuts are listed in Canada's food rules as a meat alternate for this reason.

Answer To Last Week's Puzzle

LONG-TERM OCCUPATION ASSIGNMENT OF U.S. TROOPS IN THE EUROPEAN THEATRE

FRANKFURT. — Gen. Joseph T. McNarney said that the American force in the European theatre would be reduced by next July from its present 616,000 men to about 200,000, at which strength it will remain indefinitely.

McNarney, commander of U.S. forces in Europe, sketched for the first time the makeup of the American army to handle the long-term occupation assignment in Germany. McNarney said he was convinced the occupation should last at least 10 years, and on the basis of present evidence he favored an even longer term.

Mobile armored task forces numbering some 38,000 troops will range the American zone in armored cars, the mainstay of the U.S. occupation forces.

In addition to the mobile police force, the occupation army will consist of three infantry divisions totaling about 45,000 men, an air force, 12 light tank battalions and supporting services, and administrative echelons.

By July the total force will be cut by more than half, to remain more or less static, McNarney said.

Previous occupation plans called for 507,000 men, including eight divisions.

McNarney observed that the occupation force would be responsible for control of about 60,000 square miles and 15,000,000 Germans. The troops are required in 55 major cities plus air fields, depots and dumps.

The commander said he personally believed the military government was doing a good job, "even though some Germans 'Nazi' don't think so."

NO DATE CHOSEN

But Big Three Will Meet Next Time In Washington

WASHINGTON. — James F. Byrnes, United States secretary of state, announced that President Franklin D. Roosevelt, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov have agreed to hold the next meeting of the Big Three foreign ministers in Washington.

Michael McDermott, state department press officer, said the ministers had set no date for the Washington meeting.

Under a Big Three agreement reached at the Yalta conference, the three foreign ministers are scheduled to meet quarterly. If this arrangement is followed strictly, the Washington meeting would start March 15.

PREFABRICATED BOATS

LONDON. — In the shanties of Messers. John Brown at Clydebank, Britain, a £2,000,000 liner is being constructed with prefabricated sections built in various parts of the country. The new ship is being built for the Cunard White Star Line and is the first example of the application of the new and speed-dip method to British passenger liner construction.

RIBBENTROP WROTE A LETTER STATING IT WAS NECESSARY TO COLLABORATE WITH BRITAIN

MUENBERG, Germany. — Beaten and bitter, Adolf Hitler prophesied a week before his death in flaming Berlin that "my spirit will arise from my grave and one will see that I have been right," a long-secret letter by Joachim von Ribbentrop disclosed.

Ribbentrop, then German foreign minister, wrote the letter to Winston Churchill and Anthony Eden just before his capture in Hamburg last summer. He said Hitler made the prediction in their final conversation in Berlin, and described his letter as Hitler's "last political will."

Ribbentrop's handwritten letter was put on the secret list by army intelligence when he was captured, and this is the first despatch to quote from it textually.

The letter declared that the jittery Hitler entrusted to Ribbentrop the delivery of an appeal to British statesmen for real friendship between the British Empire and Germany as a fundamental necessity if both nations will live in the long run. Mr. Churchill and Mr. Eden at the time were prime minister and foreign secretary respectively.

Hitler also was quoted as saying he "regretted" the war with the United States. Further, the fuhrer could not help expressing his wonder at the power of the Soviet Union and called Marshal Stalin's creation of the Red Army a "grandiose deed," Ribbentrop added.

Of Hitler's own political dreams, Ribbentrop wrote that the fuhrer showed "deep disappointment and embitterment" about their failure. Ribbentrop's version of Hitler's "political will" made reality to him bore practically no resemblance to

IMPORTANT FIND

New Chemical Named Carbon 13 May Equal X-Ray

PHILADELPHIA. — Expanded production of carbon 13, which recent experiments in bio-chemical research indicate "gives promise of ranking in medical science," was announced by Sun Oil company and Houdry Process Corporation.

The isotope, so rare that current production has been at the rate of less than one-half ounce a year, "may be compared to a chemical microscope that makes it possible for the chemist to see and follow chemical reactions in the body not possible with the X-ray," a joint statement declared.

Carbon 13 has been described as appearing like an ordinary carbon. It can be used to produce any of the compounds normally composed of carbon, such as sugar, alcohol, the hydrocarbons of gasoline and thousands of others, including synthetic rubber. Or, the statement continued, carbon 13 can be used to grow vegetables which have some or all carbon-13. These compounds and vegetables, injected into or eaten by living organisms, including humans, contain the necessary "tracers" by which their effect on body functions can be discovered.

GROUP SURRENDERS

Japanese Have Been Hiding On Corregidor Since Last February

MANILA. — Twenty Japanese soldiers and sailors who have been hiding out in the caverns of Corregidor Island in Manila Bay since its recapture in February, 1945, surrendered to an amazed American guards registration detail.

The Japanese group was led by army Lieut. Shihata Masura, navy Petty Officer Ekiwasa Kinji and interpreter Shihata Kanchoiro.

Kanchoiro said the group had led a hole-in-the-wall existence in deep recesses of a cave amply provisioned with rice and dehydrated vegetables. They had not learned of the surrender until several weeks ago when they found an old newspaper.

BUILDING CONTRACTS

Value Of Construction In Canada Has Heavy Increase

TORONTO. — Value of Canadian construction awards in Canada increased by $117,670,960 over 1944, statistics from the Maclean Building Reports Ltd., show.

Total value of construction contracts awarded across Canada during 1945 was $469,031,700, as compared with $291,361,569 in 1944. Greatest percentage increase was shown by Saskatchewan with a 151.5 per cent. increase to $15,986,100.

SAIL FOR HOMELAND

Many Japs From United States Think Country Was Victorious
PORTLAND, Ore. — The largest number of Japanese to return since the war to the land of their ancestry have sailed for Yokohama on the General W. H. Gordon.

A crowd of 4,500 men, women, and children, about three-fourths of whom have never seen Japan, were aboard the vessel. Most had requested repatriation; a few were deported.

Some of the group from segregation centres sailed in a still firm belief that they were going to the victorious country.

"The majority of these people really think Japan won the war," commented Kazuhiro Yoshida, 22, Stockton, Calif., before he embarked. "They think what they read in the papers is just propaganda and that Japan is actually forcing the United States to return us as part of the peace conditions."

BANANAS FOR BRITAIN

BRISTOL, Eng. — The first boatload of bananas in five years arrived recently at Avonmouth along with 14,000 cases of oranges and four Jamaican stewaways, two of whom dived overboard a mile from shore and were not immediately apprehended.

SCIENTISTS PERFORMED WORK OF IMPORTANCE IN FIGHTING THE THREAT OF DISEASE GERMS

SUCCESSFUL FARMER

Andrew Anderson Has Died At His Home In Innisfail

CALGARY. — One of Canada's most widely known farmers, Andrew Anderson, has died at his home at Innisfail, Alta.

Andy Anderson was born in Sweden 74 years ago and came to the United States about 1885. From there he went to Saskatchewan, where his Fogelvik farm became famous as a show place of the prairies, frequently visited by notables, including the late E. C. Cora Hinds, Agriculture Minister James Gardiner and Opposition Leader John Bracken.

In 1930 he sold his farm of several thousands acres at Innisfail and moved to Calgary. Three years later he bought another farm at Innisfail, naming it also Fogelvik. It too became a model farm. He was once awarded the M.B.E.

"Andy" Anderson is best remembered by farmers of Saskatchewan, active between 1920 and 1930, as the one man whose specialty was raising Creeping Red Fescue grass, which sold at the farm at 50 cents a pound in those days. The Anderson farm was in reality a show place with specially treed sections, large lawns, flower beds, and excellent "me" surroundings. Mr. Anderson was also a hog raiser of repute, and his yearly output sometimes went to several hundred.

The land he farmed was, actually, added to raising grass seed, and he was able to supply only part of the demands made on him by wholesale houses seeking lawn grass seeds.

NOW RECOGNIZED

Canadian Sailors Were Named In The King's Honor List

OTTAWA. — Sailors who fought in the Pacific theatre with units of the Canadian Navy were recognized for the first time in the King's Canadian Navy's honor list.

Canadian sailors who had won decorations for gallantry in the Pacific, but never were they cited in honors lists for action with Canadian units.

The list contained 238 names and highlights included awards for bravery in the Halifax naval magazine explosion last July and recognition of the work of the "DEMS" the long unassuming heroes who manned merchant ship runs.

The "DEMS" taken from the designation Defensively Equipped Merchant Ship—handled the scant armament of the Merchant Marine and aided in bringing convoys safely through waters infested by U-boats and patrolled by enemy aircraft.

TRAIN WRECK

Fifteen Persons Killed In Railway Collision In Britain

LICHFIELD, Staffs, England. — Fifteen persons were killed when a freight train telescoped a four-coach passenger train standing in a London, Midland and Scottish railway station just outside Lichfield.

It was Britain's worst train wreck since last Sept. 30, when 39 persons were killed in the derailling of a passenger train near London.

More than 14 injured passengers were taken to hospitals in the area. One engine and several coaches were derailed and broken down, and the minister and his wife killed, and sent to the scene to clear the tracks.

OTTAWA. — Canadian scientists performed work of the "utmost importance" in the joint British, Canadian and American research on counter-measures against a feared Nazi attack with disease germs, it was disclosed in a government statement which indicated Canada took the first steps to combat this dreaded form of warfare.

The 300-word statement, issued by defence headquarters simultaneously with reports from Washington and London, disclosed that work on biological warfare began in Canada as early as 1937 when the late Sir Frederick Banting, spurred by intelligence reports that Germany was experimenting in the mobilization of disease germs for war, began collecting information on this little-known science.

When the war clouds broke in 1939 Sir Frederick, Canada's foremost medical scientist and co-discoverer of insulin, gathered a small group of medical and veterinary research workers to consider possible defensive measures against this form of attack.

Sir Frederick's little group later formed to the defence department as the national research council and, said the statement, "considerable progress was made."

Control of the research was transferred to the defence department in 1942 when "intelligence information regarding the enemy's interest in this subject was such that this country was forced to prepare for the eventuality that the enemy might use this form of warfare against us."

The statement said there was danger not only of sabotage through the spread of disease among humans and animals but also on a large scale in military operations.

While the statement gave no further information on Sir Frederick's work on biological warfare, it was understood he had been flying to Britain to inform on this subject when he was killed in the crash of an aircraft in Newfoundland in 1941.

Officials at defence headquarters and the external affairs department declined to elaborate on the statement, which gave little information on the research conducted in Canada.

It did say, however, that while some of the information must remain secret much of it would be of "great value" to the medical and veterinary fields and "arrangements are being made for the publication of this information in the appropriate scientific journals."

The statement added: "The closest liaison was maintained with the United Kingdom and the United States workers in this field and in several instances work was carried out by investigators from the three countries working as joint teams."

GIFT FROM CANADA

Churches Set $10,000 For Repair Of Vimy Memorial Church

TORONTO. — A gift of $10,000 has been forwarded for repair of the Canadian Vimy Memorial church in the French city of Lens, the Canadian council of churches announced.

The money was raised through congregations of churches across Canada.

The church, a memorial to Canadians who fell in the First Great War, was damaged by bombardment during the war just ended. In August of 1944 the main dome was destroyed, the minister and his wife killed, and sent to the scene to clear the tracks.

STEPS BEING TAKEN TO LAY GROUNDWORK FOR DEMOCRATIC STRUCTURE FOR THE JAPANESE

WASHINGTON. — Gen. MacArthur reported that the conduct of United States troops in Japan "has been exemplary" and that their presence "may be a decisive factor in shaping the future" of that country.

"If democracy cannot yet be imposed directly, it is at least being demonstrated," he wrote.

The report, released by the war department, covered in detail the first two months of the occupation—September and October. It made no reference to current matters or to relations with Allied powers.

It said "Positive steps have been taken to lay the groundwork for a democratic structure in Japan." But it added that "the Japanese government has suggested little during the two months of occupation pointing toward fundamental democratic reform."

"Political activity is hampered by the concentration of the people on the paramount problems of food, clothing and shelter," the report continued. "Even if the essentials of life were adequate in Japan, it would be unrealistic to expect spontaneous and widespread participation of the people in politics. They would willingly punish the policy-makers and bureaucrats for losing the war, and that is about all."

"As for democracy, they have had no experience with it in any way. Dignity of the individual is completely foreign to their background of feudalism and totalitarianism. The millions of peasants and the women in general are politically ignorant."

Add to this the fact real leaders are afraid to speak out, not knowing how long United States troops will be here to protect them against the dreaded secret police, and it will be readily understood why as yet there have been no significant political developments in Japan.

Another phase of the report outlined "an extensive information and education program" to give the people the facts of atrocities, war crimes and related subjects. It reported that "the report continues, 'Even if the essentials of life were adequate in Japan, it would be unrealistic to expect spontaneous and widespread participation of the people in politics. They would willingly punish the policy-makers and bureaucrats for losing the war, and that is about all.'"

"As for democracy, they have had no experience with it in any way. Dignity of the individual is completely foreign to their background of feudalism and totalitarianism. The millions of peasants and the women in general are politically ignorant."
